After the marriage she gave him about $50,000 more. A trip they had planned to the Mediterranean was reduced to a trip to St. Augustine, Fla.

After she had quit the bogus baron she learned that he was an ex-convict, having served a term in the State prison on Trenton, N. J., for grand larceny and had also been confined in the Essex county and in New Jersey.

The annulment of the marriage was possible to be formed as the following states ment:

"I dare make the prediction, based on knowledge of important experiments, that the day is not far distant when the coal pile in the cellar will be replaced by the electrical reservoir of boxlike shape and moderate size, to furnish heat throughout the entire building and also to the kitchen in residences for cooking. And this will be stored at low cost and be on tap for use when needed.

"I am hopeful that this may be realized before we meet again one year from now, if we do meet.
